Thesis Statements on Stem Cell Research

1. Defining the legal and ethical status of human embryos will resolve the issue of embryonic stem cell research funding in the United States.

2. Total federal funding of embryonic stem cell research in the United States will result to great medical advancements.

3. People in favor of embryonic stem cell research exaggerate its potential benefits.

4. Only the rich will have access to the potential benefits of stem cell research.

5. The risks of embryonic stem cell research outweigh its potential benefits.